... 1974-75, a year that was hard, long and not the least bit boring. A year of variance from the ordeal of Richard Nixon to the escapades of Congressman Wilbur Mills . . .

Aleksandr Solzhenitsyn, exiled in Switzerland, was made an honorary American citizen, the second man in history behind Lafayette . . .

Patricia Hearst, kidnapped in Feb., is now on the FBI's most wanted list . . . kidnapped by the symbionese Liberation Army, daughter of newspaper giant Randolph Hearst, she became "Tania" of the SLA.

In North Carolina, an Eastern Airline DC-9 crashed into the woods while attempting to land in Charlotte on Sept 11, killing 69 people . . .

Wilbur Mills, one of the most respected men on Capitol Hill, lost much support after admitting to fits of drinking and being seen with the stripper Fanny Foxxe . . . they had their last tango in the Capitol.

In hopes of putting their small country on the map, Zaire had Mohammed Ali and George Foreman bid for the heavyweight title of the world in their country . . . Mohammed TKOed Foreman in the eighth round . . .

Evel Knievel took us all for a ride with his "fantastic" sky cycle over Snake River Canyon when a parachute deployed too early and he landed, safely, at the bottom . . .

The recording industry had a field day with Superstars Elton John, John Denver, and the soloing Beatles. Even Bob Dylan returned with his protest songs after an absence of seven years . . .

Mainly on the political scene . . . In July, Retired U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren died at 83. Ehrlichman and three others were convicted for the Ellsberg break-in, while the House Judiciary Committee opened its impeachment debate . . . former Treasury Secretary John Connally was indicted on bribing and perjury charges.

In August, former White House counsel John Dean was sentenced to one to four years in prison for his Watergate cover-up role.

In a televised speech, President Richard Nixon announced he would resign the following day citing the erosion of his "political base in Congress" and also admitting that some of his judgements "were wrong" . . .

President Gerald Ford, successor to Nixon, nominated Nelson Rockefeller as his vice-president . . .

In September, the United States and East Germany established diplomatic relations while President Ford granted Nixon a "full, free and absolute pardon for all federal crimes he committed or may have committed in office" . . .

President Ford also offered conditional amnesty to draft evaders and deserters who registered for up to two years' work in public service; Ford also defended CIA activities in Chile prior to the 1973 coup . . .

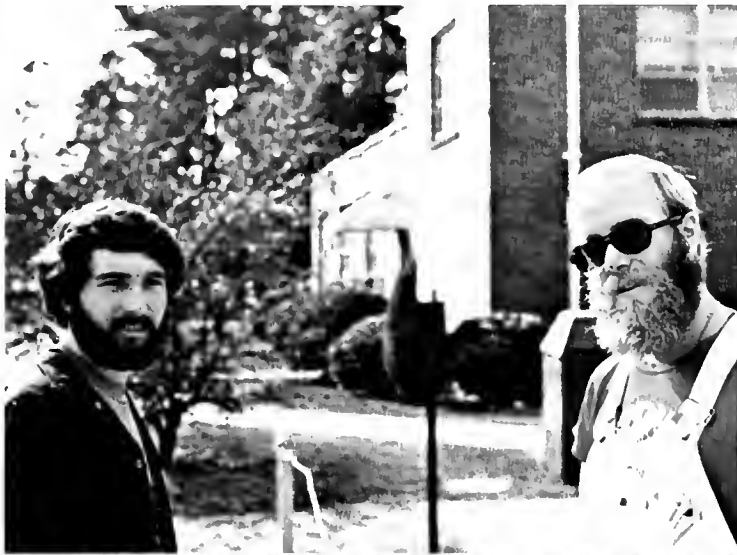

A federal judge dismissed charges against Indian rebel leaders in the Wounded Knee trial, citing misconduct and errors of strategy . . .

The so-called "last known" American prisoner-of-war in Indochina was freed by the Pathet Lao; In Honduras hurricane Fifi caused heavy flooding killing 8,000 people. In the states, Senator Edward Kennedy (D. Mass.) ruled out a presidential bid in 1976 . . .

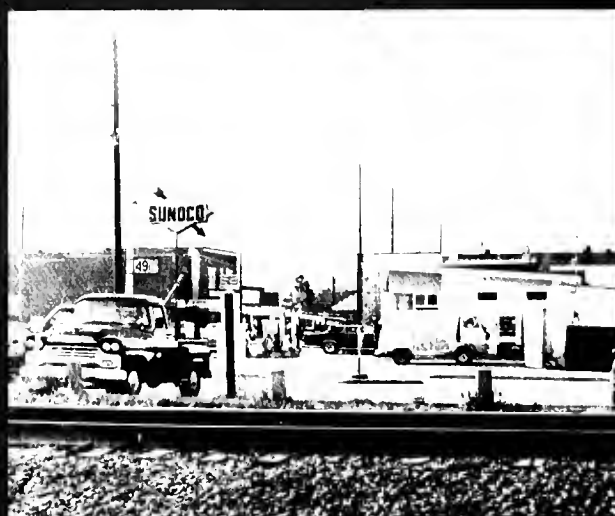

In October, the Watergate trial opened for five defendants while the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed below 600 for the first time in 12 years . . .

In November, the charges against the eight Kent State defendants were dismissed and the White House finally admitted the U.S. was entering a recession.

Famine threatened many parts of the world as the World Food Conference concluded with an agreement to establish a new UN agency, the World Food Council. The Justice Department filed a massive antitrust suit against AT&T . . . and finally, meeting in Vladivostok, Ford and Brezhnev tentatively agreed on a ceiling for offensive nuclear weapons through 1985.

Indians

In co-operation with the North Carolina Humanities Committee, Pembroke University produced the play by Arthur Kopit, "Indians." Although reaction to the play was varied, hundreds had to be turned away due to seating space. There were also panel discussions during the week on Politics and the American Indian, Literature and the American Indian, Media and the American Indian, and Education and the American Indian.

"On Our Own . . ."

There is another way to escape dorm life, besides commuting; and that is to set up housing off-campus. Many Pembroke State University students (mostly males) prefer staying off campus, for many reasons. We visited with such a "commune".

David Corn, David Doorman, Doug Smith, Joe Grady, Rex Everhart, and Ronald Parsons live together in a house across town. On living off campus, David Corn says this:

"I love it! I gotta rent a room and I ought to be able to do as I please and not have any stupid restrictions on me, so I moved off campus. The house allows a little bit of variation besides four brick walls. We have a house fund that pays for the common expenses and if we want to buy something for the house it comes out of the house fund. We pay the same rent as dorm students, but we also have a kitchen, living room, and a recreation room."

"Isn't it crowded with six people?"

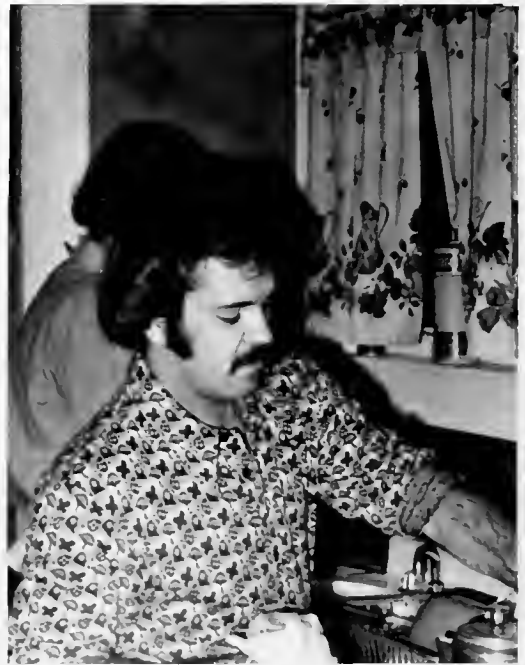

"No, two to a room is not bad because we're not confined to our one room. Another thing is that the same bunch of guys have lived together for three years we kinda have our own little family."

"What about study hours?"

"We respect eachother's studying and don't try to interfere."

Joe Grady, David Doorman, and Rex Everhart, together voice a negative side to it though. They said that living off campus tended to separate you from the majority of students. They all agree that every student should live in the dorm at least once. But the general opinion of them all was:

"I love it!"

Got them Ol' Commuter Blues

"Ughhh," is probably the first word uttered by a PSU commuter as he turns off his alarm clock which is set at six. He is up and gone by six-thirty ready to face the fog, rain, trucks, and the many other obstacles which may stand in his way.

Commuting as viewed by students has its trials and tribulations. Approximately sixty-five percent are commuters. Many of them live within driving distance and so due to a variety of reasons they find it sensible or mandatory to commute.

Debbie, as a commuting sophomore, expressed her view on the subject: "Having lived on campus, I feel that commuting has more advantages than disadvantages." Debbie feels that commuting is financially economical and she finds more available time to fulfill her necessary studies. Debbie enjoys the freedom that comes with commuting such as more dedication given to her family and hobbies.

Robbie on the other hand, finds commuting boring and tiresome. He feels that the limitations set on him by his parents hinder him from the nocturnal activities that are of PSU. Robbie also misses the friends accompanying him in these activities.

But with all the apparent drawbacks, commuters still remain the majority of PSU students.

On a cool November evening, nine excited students competed in a very special event.

Only a few weeks before hand, they had been asked to be contestants by students in different campus organizations.

After hours of competition, in the areas of Sportswear, Talent, and Evening Gown, the judges compared notes, and came to a decision.

Miss Lynne Clark, sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi, was chosen Miss Congeniality, by the other contestants. Third Runner-Up was Miss Deheava Drake, sponsored by the Black Student Organization. Second Runner-Up was Miss Linda Gail Locklear, sponsored by the Pi Kappa Alpha Little Sisters. First Runner-Up was Glenda Gail Locklear, sponsored by Kappa Delta. The crowd's tension mounted, as the Master of Ceremonies, Mike Vermillion prepared to announce Miss Pembroke State University 1975. The girl chosen to represent Pembroke State University in 1975 was Miss Teresa Oxendine, sponsored by the Student Government Association.

Pembroke Players

The Players finished their '74 season with a production of "The Me Nobody Knows". The touching musical portrayed the lives of twelve ghetto-dwelling children. Their dreams, aspirations, joys and sorrows warmed the audience, already enjoying the many songs and dance numbers. The realization that the spoken dialogue was actually written by children of New York, and the rapport established between the cast and audience led to a heart-felt standing ovation. Much credit was given to director Don Dalton, whose staging of a musical with a large cast and much action came across well on the small Moore Hall stage.

George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion" came to life as the second show of the season. Al Dunavan directed the classic, portraying the transformation of an ignorant girl into an acceptable London socialite.

Pembroke Players

An innovative outdoor production opened the season for the Players. Lawrence and Lee's "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail", with its earthy teachings of Henry Thoreau, was staged under the stars for two performances at Pembroke State University. The players then took the show on the road for five performances at area high schools.

Coach Olson's soccer team fared better than the 4-11-1 record indicates. Eric Riccioppo was named all-district, while team mates Tom Williams and Mike Kelly achieved honorable mention. Placing second in P.S.U.'s first Open Soccer Tournament, Riccioppo, John Student, and Mike Kelly were named to the all-tournament team. The team also place third in the Annual Campbell College Classic. Off to a good start, injuries to starters Mitch Covington and John Student, combined with bad luck, hampered the Braves till the end of the season.

Wrestling

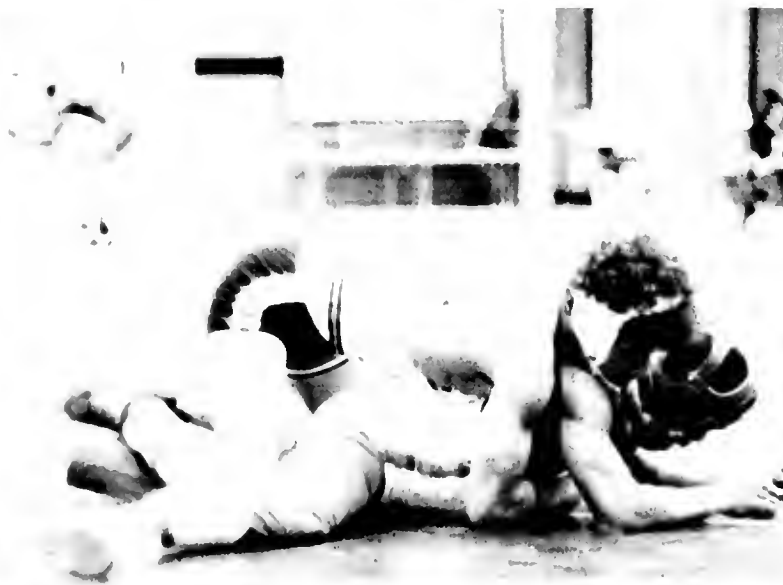

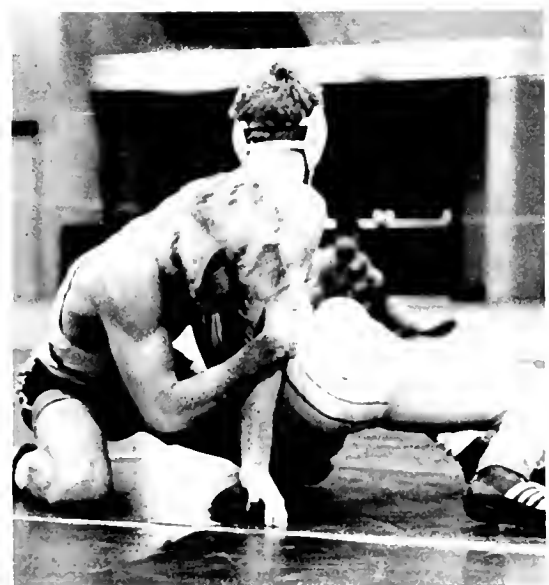

With the three NAIA Area 7 individual champions that returned from last year's team, Pembroke State University retained the reputation of a tough wrestling team. Larry Bridgewater, Rick Liss and Greg Frey were the returning champions.

The Braves faced a formidable schedule by taking part in the State Championships, two dual meets with N.C. State, and matches with Southeastern and CIAA conference schools. For the first time in the school's history, the Braves defeated Appalachian State University

The Braves Invitational Tournament was dominated by Pembroke State's winning in 6 of 10 weight classes. Senior Larry Bridgewater was named "Most Outstanding Wrestler" for the tournament.

TRACK

This year, Pembroke's thinclads hope to make a top showing in district and national ranking. Teammate Jeff Cushing is All-American 1000-yard indoor champion while Jerry Stancil, Glen Doye, Dennis Jones Gray Barnhardt, Ricky Jackson, Marion Craddock, and Jim Smith are honorable mention All-American.

PSU also has their first walker in Pete Gibson (mile-7:00). With 17 lettermen returning (including seven all district performers) and 16 newcomers, Coach Ed Crain is hoping again for the district title.

Basketball

The initial game of the season for the Braves indicated that they were headed for their third consecutive Tip-Off Tournament Victory, posting a 66-47 victory over High Point College. In the Championship game, however, the Braves met defeat at the hands of Campbell College. The tournament was highlighted by the heroics of Tom Gardner and his 51 Points during the two-day affair. For his efforts he was selected as the tournament's Most Valuable Player.

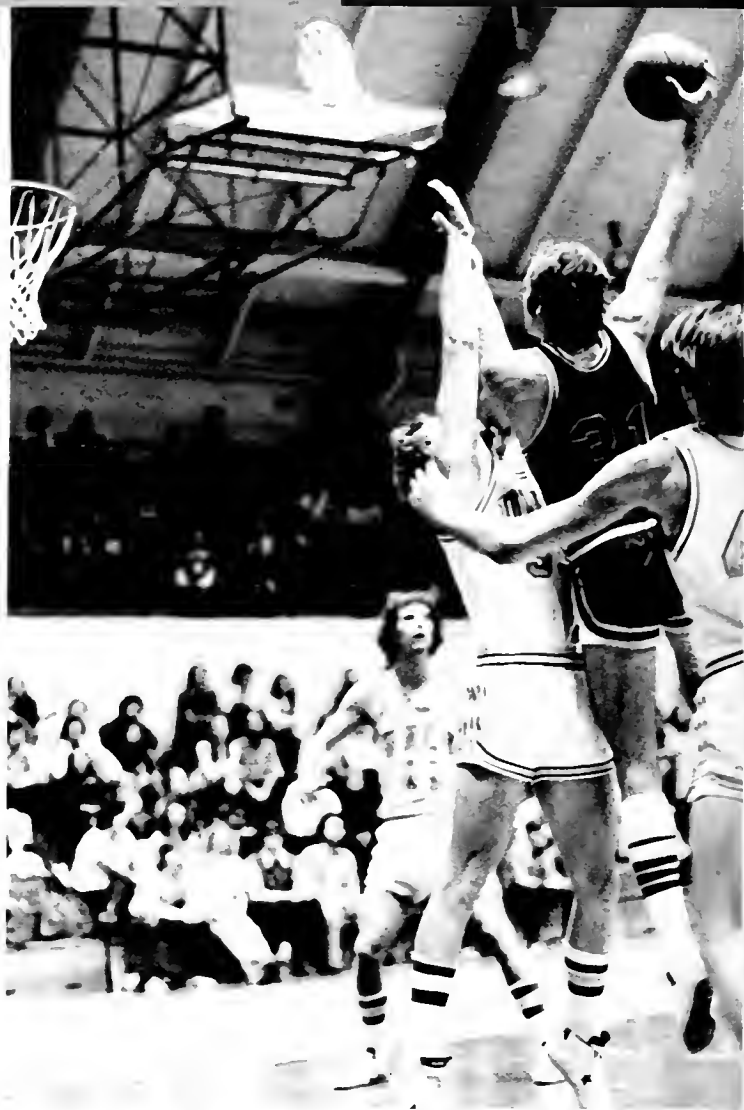

After two consecutive losses away from home, the Braves went on the war path winning 8 consecutive home games. After a disappointing loss to UNC-W, the Braves came back to post victories over Methodist and Atlantic Christian. Then tragedy struck as Pembroke fell to Campbell College for the second time in the season. This loss was particularly disheartening, as it gave the Braves little hope of a District title.

Basketball

Women's Basketball

Girl's basketball is rapidly growing. What once was referred to as a "comedy of errors," has overnight reversed itself into a thrilling and action-packed forty minutes. With numerous rule changes that have been adopted, women's basketball is not far behind in the game once dominated by the men.

The Lady Braves, after an initial year of frustration and failure, have come into the spotlight at Pembroke State University. Coach Ann Webb directed her team to an impressive record of seven wins and seven losses. The Lady Braves were led by Karen Culver, scoring an average of 17.0 points per game. Also sharing in the scoring honors was Sally Hall, averaging 10 points per game. The crowds have been treated with a different and new type action as was witnessed in the come from behind victory over arch rival UNC-W. With this type action, the crowds will surely grow in the future support of women's sports.

Tennis

The varsity tennis team had little action this past fall with only two scheduled matches. Rounding out their schedule, the girl's tennis team faces ten matches in the upcoming spring. Carol Taylor, Debbi Bailey, and Lynn Griggs, are returning starters from last season. Caron Chavis and Martha Kivett, promise to make the upcoming season a most productive one. With additional members such as Bonnie Norris, Lane Gilmer, Dee Conn and Barbara Davis, the team will receive much needed depth.

Pembroke State's women volleyball team showed a marked improvement over previous seasons. Posting a record of four wins and nine losses, the Lady Braves highlighted their season by placing third in the state volleyball tournament, B Division. To further top off the season, Inez Wall was selected as the first female Athletic of the Month during volleyball season.
